“ This man was a joy to be around. Many hours spent at his table working very hard crossword puzzles with him. Perhaps my most treasured memory though is when he and Ingot in a lot of hot water with his daughter together. The day Tammy and I brought our precious Donielle home for the first time from the hospital, Lee and I thought it would be a good idea to take her with us to the grocery store. Then Lee, who was so proud of his little granddaughter thought maybe we should make a couple of extra stops to “ show her off” a little. Needless to say when we got back some 3 or 4 hours later Tammy was not real pleased with either of us. His laugh that day at her anger and that mischievous laugh on so many other occasions will always be a cherished memory of mine. God Bless the family and friends and ole friend I will see you again soon. Sure hope they have crosswords in heaven and let sweet Linda still fix coffee for us there.
