“ I loved Doris Clark. I worked along side of her for about 5 years in the Healing Rooms. We worked so well together as we both had differing gifts. Her spirit and heart will be missed but I am sure she is hanging out with Michal Ann Goll and cheering us all on.
Blessings upon you Tom - I love you and am praying for you during this time.

“ A powerful warrior of the kingdom, although your seed has fell to the ground and you are in heaven may the seed now produce a harvest of the young evangelist and prayer warriors that you have sown your life into from those in the churches to the women in the prison may much fruit be produced so that they may carry on in the harvest that you labored in while on earth. You will be missed but no forgotten.

“ The importance of Doris Clark in my spiritual life:. She was critical to me. I first met her early in 2002 at a Lydia Fellowship Prayer meeting. She was a guest there. She was so passionate and raved about James Goll and told us about an upcoming conference of his. I was so intrigued that I went to that conference and quickly became one of his conference junkies for several years. I also got to know her and Tom from going to prayer meetings at James Goll's Encounter Network headquarters and attending Grace Center with them for many years. I also was under Doris' leadership when she was the Healing Rooms director under James Goll's ministry, for about a year and a half. I would chat with her to catch up every time I went to Global Fire in Murfreesboro. For years she was secretive about how she liked that Lydia Fellowship meeting. She was trying to protect my feelings. She said God made her go and then have a strained look on her face. It took me years for me to pry it out of her. She did not like it at all and called it a tea party type of prayer meeting when she was hoping it would be frontlines warfare type of meeting. It seemed to frustrate her very much. But I know the real reason God sent her there---it was for me. Without her visiting that prayer meeting way back in 2002 I never would have discovered the charismatic and prophetic side of Christendom. Thank you, Doris, for attending that prayer meeting that you so very much did not like..

“ Doris was such an example to me of loving God and people. She beamed with grace, the Father's love and joy. She encouraged me to love and learn the Word of God and to pursue my purpose. What an amazing Mother in God to so many! Her persistence in prayer was greatly commendable, and she interceded with a deep understanding of God's heart for the world. She will be greatly missed and I imagine her love is already making heaven a more wonderful place.

“ I remember her love and hospitality when ever I was in their home. I remember her wonderful passion for the Lord Jesus and His Kingdom. I remember so many times of prayer and intercession together, and of course eating meals together.

I'm so sad to see her gone without getting to say goodbye, but it's good to know that she is with her Lord and Master Jesus Christ.

“ Doris did not know me personally, but we share worship together in many different venues... Her attention to her mom was so loving and kind ! Her mom became so aware of God's goodness, it appeared to me.. I was blessed in witnessing such a living example of one honoring her Mother..

“ I am so sad that this amazing lady, went home! You are now, with the one that you LOVED with ALL your heart!!! I was so very blessed to have know you for so may years. You were a powerful intercession and strong daughter of God, that wanted ALL that Jesus gave us...you were not satisfied walking in the limitations and boundaries placed by this realm or by the religious spirits....but, you wanted to walk in EVEN MORE....you wanted to walk in the fulness of ALL that God gave us and... your desire and hunger for more of Him was amazing! I remember us talking about it. I was blessed to have you as part of our studio audience when we recorded our TV show... one can hear your shouts of excitement, as you were receiving revelations from Him, during those tapings and oh..how happy i was to hear them : ). You will be greatly missed, Doris Faye Clark!!! You ARE NOW walking in His fulness, on the other side of the veil! I am sending you my love!

“ A mom in the faith, treasured friend, and general has stepped over into Heaven. While I'm grieving the loss, I know the thrill she is experiencing, dancing in the presence of our King. God lovingly made the connection with Doris and Tom following radical encounters in the manifest presence of God that left me searching for someone that understood these things. They adopted me and taught me so much. They have loved me unconditionally through many challenges, and rejoiced with me when the breakthroughs came. I've been blessed by the prayers of this mighty woman of God, who helped me know the Father in deep and intimate ways. God is writing an everlasting story in her life. She has gone ahead into the next chapter, but the love she shared with me and countless others remains. Until we dance in His presence together again, my sweet friend. Melissa Morrison
