“ I was so sorry to hear of Pat's passing. It was just the other day that someone said they saw her and I was wondering how she was doing. The last time I remember seeing Pat was when she came in the store after she had retired and I remember her telling me the Carpel Tunnel in her hands had got so much better because she was not using her hands like when she was working.

I've not seen Pat in a very long time but had the pleasure of working along side her for many of those 31 years that she worked at Kroger. Please accept my heart felt condolences. Pat seemed like a friend to most all of the customers and Kroger was lucky to have her.

I got to looking in my photo archives and found a picture I'll share of Pat on the day of her retirement. My records indicate the photograph was taken in February 2006.
